their New Year's resolution? I am 13 years old and I have a long list of resolutions for the new year. I made them up as I went along and I know I would be a better person if I could keep some of them even half way.

My older brother says I am a starry-eyed idealist and that nobody keeps New Year's resolutions. He claims they are just something to talk about and nobody ever sticks to them. Is he right? — SELF IMPROVER

Dear Improver: Your brother is wrong. If you aim for the choice apple on the top limb your chances for hitting it are better than not aiming at all. Striving for excellence and trying to be better than you are is not starry-eyed and idealistic. The only way people improve themselves is through constant effort. Good luck to you and a Happy New Year!

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, see ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Before You Marry—Is It Love Or Sex?", enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
